

I am shocked to learn that Sinclair Broadcasting System is requiring all of their affiliates to air a program critical of John Kerry's presidential campaign. My distress is due to my understanding that the air waves cannot be used for partisan campaigns without broadcasting differing views at the same time.

Ownership of radio and TV channels places an obligation upon all vendors to ensure that the public has access to all political discourse. The media as licensees cannot be totally devoted to one point of view as I understand legislation that authorizes the sale of public air waves.

If my understanding is correct, I request that the FCC require this company to correct its instructions to their affiliates.
